Workforce Changes at NARL Refining Limited Partnership (North Atlantic Refining)

NARL Refining Limited Partnership is making changes to its workforce in response to economic pressures that has forced many refineries throughout the world to close.

Current economic conditions and the impending regulatory changes, require the refinery to optimize operational costs and improve its competitive advantage. As a result, NARL Refining Limited Partnership made the difficult decision to reduce its workforce by 128 people.

This decision was very difficult, but necessary to secure the refinery's future. We understand the impact this will have on people and their families, and we have put a number of resources in place to provide support during this time.

NARL Refining Limited Partnership is committed to securing the refinery's future in Newfoundland and Labrador and preserving as many jobs as possible.
